A USDC Mixer, also known as a USDC Tumbler is an online service helping USDC owners to regain privacy over there USDC

The most way to buy cryptocurrencies such as USDC, is through an exchanger. An exchange should not store the USDC using their wallet card after verifying their identity by providing their exchange with a official ID card.

The process described as a security feature, is actually a risk from the governments forcing their exchanges to collect and share their personal information with them.

Once that done and receive the information (which can used by USDC in public), there's nothing your ID will be able to match your wallet and how they can check for any other funds.

However, there is a legal way to gain back your crypto privacy. It's called a USDC Mixer.

How does USDC mixer work?

USDC Mixer can bypass wallet services and work in two ways.

They will use one of their liquidity pool to receive your USDC and

Then they will use another of their liquidity pool to provide you with other

Thinking that when you will receive on your new wallet after that mixing procedure will not be visible in your original blockchain.
